Measure W Rebuttal to Argument in Favor:

If you think voting for this bond measure will help kids, think twice. 13

If approved, this bond will saddle you and future generations with more debt and even higher housing costs. >18

There is a serious fiscal stewardship problem at this school district. 11

Since 1996, the district has already received approval for $633,000,000 from five bond measures. >14

Most recently, the district asked voters for $265,000,000 for safety and building upgrades, based on 20% projected increase in student enrollment. 721

This enrollment projection never materialized, yet all money was spent ! 10

Now they are back, asking you for another $591,500,000. And at the August 3rd school board meeting, trustees said they might seek another bond in a few years. 728

So what is the plan for this money? There isn't one (except we know bonds are for buildings and cannot be used for teachers or academic programs). The bond measure itself says they in the process of conducting a "Facilities Master Planning Process" to "identify the upgrades needed". 748

Asking for taxpayer money before there is a specific plan and budget tied to key priorities is fiscally irresponsible. 719

The district estimates this massive $591,500,000 construction project will cost taxpayers $1,100,000,000 including principal, interest and fees. 717

If approved, this will make the housing crisis even worse. 10

Everyone would pay $1000s over decades in higher taxes and housing costs during a time of high inflation and economic uncertainty. 721

Tell the school board to prioritize and budget just like families. 11

Vote NO on Measure W !! 4
