Rebuttal to Argument in Favor of Measure N

19 The argument in favor of Measure N paints only a pretty picture, without full disclosure of all the consequences.

14 David Woltering, San Bruno's community development director, is on the record as saying: "What we 16 have found, in talking to developers and property interests in other communities, is these city restrictions
13 in Ordinance 1284 are major limitations to private investment and redevelopment and economic
7 development here in the city of San Bruno..."

14 If this has been the primary barrier to economic development, simply repeal Ordinance 1284.

16 Instead, if Measure N were to pass, current renters and residents may find themselves priced out
16 of San Bruno when the proposed developments go up only in targeted areas with only favored developers
6 getting approval from the planning commission.

18 A number of well paying blue collar jobs may be lost in downtown San Bruno due to gentrification. Mixed
15 retail development will likely bring in only minimum wage service jobs. Transit oriented communities often
9 result in speculative real estate prices and higher rent.

5 Vote NO on Measure N.
