Rebuttal to Argument Against Measure K

The time to address San Mateo County's affordability crisis is now. Measure K allows us to do that – and much more – with NO increase in taxes.

When voters first approved additional funding in 2012, the great recession had cut critical services to the bone. San Mateo County addressed your priorities by restoring public safety and services for seniors, veterans, youth and families:

11

- A new 911 dispatch center that improves emergency services
- Major improvements to mental health services for adults and teens
- Expanded preschool programs so kids start school ready to learn

Today, the cost of living in San Mateo County has skyrocketed, and we cannot wait to address affordability – too many of our neighbors are being forced to move away or make impossible choices between housing and other necessities. Without raising taxes, Measure K allows us to:

- Provide affordable homes for seniors, people with disabilities, veterans and working families, including teachers and first responders
- Address impacts of climate change and sea level rise
- Maintain the critical work started on public safety, health care and parks improvements

By law, locally controlled Measure K funds cannot be taken away by the state. An independent oversight committee and annual audits will ensure that every penny is accounted for and spent locally on crucial San Mateo County services.

Join San Mateo County working families, seniors, businesses, affordable housing advocates, law enforcement officials, health care professionals and your neighbors in voting YES on Measure K to promote affordability and protect our unique quality of life with NO new taxes.
